

OGT Missouri-Illinois Branch Container Arrives in Uganda

After several months, the container to Uganda from Missouri-Illinois Branch was released on December 23, 2011, and the contents were distributed and immediately put to use.

Furniture and equipment from Concordia Publishing House were moved to the headmaster's office and staff room of Christ Community Lutheran School, Kawete, Uganda. The headmaster was heard to say, "Our office looks like it could be in Kampala!" Manual typewriters are being used daily by the school secretary and teachers.

Solar panels from the container were installed and it was amazing to see the looks of the students, teachers, and staff when the light bulbs first came on in the office and classrooms.

Quilts made by the women of Missouri and Illinois were given to each student. One exclaimed to the local project manager that her cheeks won't be "puffed up" when she is cold because she and her siblings will now be covered at night with a blanket instead of their grandmother's worn dress.

Kids Against Hunger food is always a special treat to all the kids. It smelled so good while cooking, and every grain of rice was devoured.
